

KIM LUX
Resume

Kim's long held dream of a career in animal training became reality, when, upon completing a Certificate in Canine Behaviour and Training at Unitec in 2008, She became a full time member of the team at Mark Vette's Animals on Q.

Since starting at Animals on Q, Kim has wrangled and trained a diverse range of animals including cats, dogs, cows, mice, ducks, pigeons, rabbits and butterflies for advertising, television and feature film work. Her own pet cat Lilly, whom was adopted from the SPCA, had a starring role in the recent Purina cat food television commercial.

She is also heavily involved as Marks assistant helping run the Behaviour Clinic, having an active role in the corrective training of the clinic Dogs, composition of clinic notes and liaising with clinic clients.
